

Midlands Engine Trade Summit

9th March 2017, The Vox, Birmingham

The inaugural Midlands Engine Trade Summit will be taking place on the 9th March in Birmingham at the Vox Conference Centre.

Why should you exhibit?

- Market your services to over 300 business owners looking to export and to a selection of trade experts
- Engage with new and existing clients face-to-face
- Receive meeting requests directly from potential customers via our online matchmaking portal in advance of the event
- Support UK businesses in trading internationally
- Make a small investment to access leads. Stand spaces start from £300.

Why should your members visit?

Many Midlands based businesses may be interested in attending this free event. We would encourage you to invite your members to this interactive and informative day, including:

- Speakers from the worlds of export finance, business and Government
- Hear from potential business partners that can help your business grow

- valuable insight into the benefits of international trade and e-market places
- Meeting new contacts to help you grow your business
- Attending workshops covering topics such as 'Exporting: is it for you?', 'Midlands Engine Drivers for Growth' and 'The World of Finance'
- Arranging one-to-one meetings with finance, overseas markets and export experts
